

THOSE PEOPLE WHO were first provoked at the City of Campbell when stopped by a traffic officer and his radar on W. Campbell Ave. last week were really shocked when they learned that the police officers were from San Jose.

Many, who were unfamiliar with the infamous Cherry Lane annexation on the part of San Jose eight or more years ago, figured the San Jose cops were out of their territory and were ready to read 'em off.

Unfortunately the San Jose officers with their radar knew where they were all the time, all too well.

The San Jose cops set up their radar shop on W. Campbell Ave. between Hunt Way on the east end and almost to San Tomas Road on the west.

Despite the fact that the area north of Campbell Ave. in that particular sector is within this city's boundaries, that portion south of Campbell Ave. is in San Jose.

So the cops were within their so-called "rights" to bag the motorists for San Jose.

INCIDENTALLY, ONE OF the guys who was stopped by the San Jose gendarmes was Ira Kirkorian, developer of the Kirkwood Plaza and similar other projects and a long-time Campbell booster.

Ira, of necessity, knows the city limits of both cities pretty darn well. He, of course, is well aware of the San Jose strip. (Campbell, for those who tuned in late takes in both sides of Campbell Ave. east of San Tomas Road and including the Kirkwood Plaza.)

Kirkorian called the officers' attention to the fact that he had been stopped in Campbell. However, the cops pointed out that the violation had occurred in San Jose.

So that was that. Frankly we think it was a stupid maneuver on the part of the San Jose police.

For the life of us we don't know what they were trying to prove.

Surely in the sprawling metropolis of San Jose there must have been more vital spots to patrol than this Campbell "island", a few hundred yards long, which is covered many times daily by Campbell officers.

Even the fines that will be levied because of this heroic action on the part of the San Jose police will go into the San Jose coffers.

IN THIS DAY AND AGE, most police departments are making a valiant effort to improve their "image". They are working hard to establish better community relations. At least that is what we have heard.

Thus in face of that, it seems to us it is incongruous that the San Jose Police department would be so dopey (or maybe they are so over-staffed) that it can afford to send police officers out into the "sticks" (to use the term loosely) to ticket people via radar for traffic violations.

And those "sticks" referred to make up a strip that is just a few hundred yards long and right smack-dab in the heart of Campbell and which should not have been in San Jose in the first place.

We are not defending any of the traffic violators who were cited by the busy-body San Jose cops.

Chances are the violations did occur.

But somehow it seems so silly and stupid.

And besides none of the dough from the fines will go to Campbell.

AS YOU READ THIS THE Democratic convention will probably have reached a crescendo.

And, of course, the TV people will spend a great deal of time comparing the two conventions, the GOP that took place last month and nominated Nixon and Agnew and the Demo clambake.

But the REPS had some-

Cave-in occurs on playground at Capri School

"Someone just had to be watching over them..."

"Thank Heavens it didn't take place three weeks later." That was what Campbell school district officials were saying this week as they discussed the 35-foot deep cave-in that occurred on the Capri School playground last Friday afternoon.

The crumbling black-top was discovered by RON WESTPHAL, of 887 Steinway, (top left photo) and the district maintenance people were immediately notified (top right).

The hole was only two-feet across when Ron first saw it. It was eventually widened to eight-feet by jack-hammers in order to determine the depth and to facilitate filling.

The depth of the hole was determined by JACK HERNANDEZ (lower left photo) of the district maintenance staff who lowered a line into the "cave". That's Brian Rogers "supervising" Hernandez.

It took 10 dump truck loads of 50 cubic yards to fill the hole in

The Capri School opened in the fall of 1964, C.E. (Brad) Bradley, district manager, recalled with a shudder and for four years heavy trucks and hundreds of kids have unknowingly been on top of a 35-foot "cavern".

Bradley guesses that the hole could have been an old well or cistern that had been covered long before the district purchased the property from Pasquale Mastrantonio.

Bradley thinks also because buildings may have been on the location of the cave-in at one time, that it could have been an old cistern, but he can find nothing in the property description to bear this out.

But no matter.

Everyone concerned is pleased over one thing.....

The cave-in occurred during vacation period.

Campbell keeps same city tax rate

Additional personnel for the City of Campbell (in the police, fire and public works department) have been authorized for the first time in three years because of the city's healthy financial condition at the end of the fiscal year.

The action was taken last Thursday night when the City Council adopted the budget, set the tax rate and restored a number of items, including the additional personnel, that had previously been cut.

Residents within the City of Campbell next year will pay the same tax rate for the city's operating costs that has been in effect for the last eight years ($1.07) but will pay 15 cents more per $100 assessed valuation for bond redemption than last year.

The hike in the bond redemption is necessary because of the $500,000 in bonds that were sold last year. The $3,600,000 bond issue was passed by the electorate in Oct. 1967.

The 15-cent tax rate for the Campbell Lighting District will also remain as last year which is a four-cent drop in taxes since the city took over the lighting district from the county two years ago.

The city tax to raise $3,592,330 will be $1.42 plus a 15-cent lighting district tax needed to raise $57,258 to operate the district.

The City Council last Thursday adopted the budget to operate the city of $3,592,330 and set the tax rate.

But before setting the tax rate, the councilmen restored more than $53,000 in various budgetary items that had previously been slashed.

However, an unexpected windfall, mostly from first-time allocations from the state, increased the city's reserves to $204,330 at the end of the fiscal year, a near-record high for the city.

The Council went along with the recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens which put the $53,000 back into the budget. The city manager's recommendation was $32,556 less than the requests made by the department heads and included additional personnel in police, fire and public works departments.

Stephens, in his recommendations, reduced the requests submitted by his department heads. He cut one man from the public works ($3090) and one from the fire department ($4,014); eliminated a grader ($15,000) and pickup truck ($1730) from the public works and a video tape recorder ($2000) from the police department.

Former Councilman Charles Rose took the floor at the special meeting last Thursday to urge the expenditure of $20,000 annually on the improvement of the Los Gatos Creek area.

He criticized the city's allocation of $12,500 to the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and questioned the $19,000 budget for the city councilmen which includes, he pointed out, "junkets".

He said that the councilmen were being paid $150 monthly and that the "junkets" were a holdover from years when the councilmen served without pay.

Rose was reminded that he had voted for the so-called "junkets" when he served on the council prior to last April.

Public hearing tonight concerns downtown

A modified "loop" plan for the downtown area, presented by city staff personnel, will highlight the public hearing tonight (Wednesday) on Specific Area II as part of the '701' advanced planning program.

The hearing will take place in the council chambers at 8 p.m.

The '701' program is financed to a large extent by a federal grant, if the recommendations of the planning consultant, Management & Economics Research Inc. (MERI), are approved the general plan of the city adopted in 1960 must be modified.

The Planning Commission has already approved the recommendation of MERI, although at the commission's hearing considerable opposition developed from property owners over proposed zoning and land use that had been recommended by the planning consultants.

It was at the Planning Commission hearing also that the concept of the loop system for the downtown area was approved. Subsequently both the downtown redevelopment committee and the City Council approved the loop plan.

This plan provides for two one-way streets to be on either side of Campbell Ave. from Fourth St. east to the railroad. The loop system also effects the civic center which apparently will be located downtown now that the tower proposal has been withdrawn.

The staff's modified loop plan would shorten the loop. The two one-way streets would extend only from First St. to Harrison and would eliminate the need for purchasing considerable downtown property that would be needed, if the loop was extended its full length.

The Specific Area II which

Council okays new mini-park

Plans for a mini-park for Campbell at Alice Ave. and Winchester Blvd. were approved by the City Council Monday night.

The plans which had been previously approved by the Parks and Recreation Commission were presented by Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of Campbell Citizens for Beautification.

At the same meeting, the resignation of City Attorney Joseph Bonacina, taken under advisement when submitted some time ago, was officially accepted. The resignation becomes effective Dec. 31, 1968.

Just before the council meeting was adjourned, the councilmen discussed with Bonacina how best to proceed with the employment of a new city attorney. Bonacina, appointed in 1952, shortly after the city was incorporated, is the first and only city attorney to have served Campbell.

The councilmen Monday night also indicated that they felt the proper "vehicle" should be found that would increase the present height limitation from 75-feet, if the occasion demanded.

When Fred Sahadi applied for a variance to allow a 250-foot high building at Campbell and Bascom avenues, the city attorney ruled that it could not be done via the variance route.

Council members also decided to wait until after the hearing Wednesday on Specific Area II (downtown core) and Planning Commission action before acquiring any more property in the downtown area. It was explained that the loop system would definitely have an effect on the civic center location.

The Council awarded the contract for a traffic warning signal at Rosemary School to M.C. Facit of San Jose who submitted a low bid of $3421. The engineer's estimate was $3586 and the high bid of the five submitted was $5558.

The Council, however, rejected the two bids for the Hamilton Ave. street project (bridge widening) and directed new bids to be asked for at the same time as the Bascom Ave. improvement project next spring.

At the request of the city attorney, the Council adopted a resolution defining the Ray Stroppa property on Harrison as a public nuisance.

Such action will allow the city to take court action to correct the situation that exists, Bonacina explained.

Jack Farnham was authorized to demolish the Grimm property at 312 Grant Ave. for a $400 bid. The Grimm and Stroppa properties had previously been considered under one demolition contract. However, Stroppa had been so uncooperative that the previous contractor had withdrawn from the scene.

Businesses, homes suffer losses as armed robbers, burglars hit town

Business establishments and private residences were both victims this last week of armed robbers and burglars.

The latest in the series of armed hold-ups occurred Monday night when a "hippie type" person, described as a male Caucasian, entered Der Wienerschnitzel, 1400 S. Bascom avenue just at closing time, and, indicating that he had a gun, stated that "This is a hold-up. Give me all your money".

Thomas J. Pittman, who had just finished counting the days' receipts, handed over $252.10 to the robber who then took him to the jail.

Fewtrell. The individual was described as having shoulder length blond hair and wearing a red plaid carcoat.

Other business establishments suffering losses during the week included Grizzle Jewelry store, 381 E. Campbell Ave. On Aug. 21, the window of the establishment was broken and jewelry valued

Bud Armstrong resigns from elementary board

Vernon I. (Bud) Armstrong, a member of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees since March, 1966, has submitted his resignation effective Sept. 13.

Armstrong told his fellow board members that his job calls for him to move out of state. He is employed by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp in Santa Clara. His term of office terminates June 30, 1969, so his successor will fill out the remainder of the term.

As was the case in the appointment of James Gilliland to take the place of Ted Sedgwick last July, the trustees are encouraging interested citizens of the community to apply for the position of trustee.

Application forms can be obtained from the district office at 155 N. Third St., Campbell. Ph. 378-3405.

Building 'booms' at record pace for 1968 despite slump in July

Although building activity during July in Campbell was "slow", even falling below the same month last year, the building permit total for the first seven months has almost doubled that of last year.

Through July last year, the total had reached $2,713,534 while during the same period this year the total is $5,214,407, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

The "slump" in July this year compared to last July ($361,153 total in July this year compared to $497,169 last year) was largely due to the slow-up in single family construction. This July only three permits for $81,164 were taken out for single family dwellings while in July, 1967 there were 15 for $276,092. However for the first seven months this year there were 108 single family dwelling permits issued for $2,295,391 compared to 64 in the same period last year for $1,181,449.

There was only one permit for a multiple in July of this year for $61,649 while in July last year there were three permits for duplexes and mul-

Downtown "at bat"

Tonight (Wednesday) in the Council Chambers at the City Hall, the City Council has scheduled a public hearing on "Amendments to the General Plan of the City of Campbell."

Specifically, the hearing tonight concerns "Specific Area II (the so-called downtown core) and deals with the land use recommendation made by Management & Economics Research Incorporated (MERI) under the so-called "701 program".

The "701 program" is financed in part through an urban planning grant by the federal government.

The hearing tonight has taken on an added significance since the withdrawal by Fred Sahadi of the proposal to locate the civic center in a proposed 17-story office building that would be constructed at Campbell and Bascom avenues.

Prior to Sahadi's withdrawal, both the Planning Commission and City Council members had indicated that they felt that all phases of the proposition should be explored.

In fact, many city officials as well as other interested citizens had expressed tremendous enthusiasm for this bold new civic center concept and indicated that if all the legal cobwebs could be swept away, they would favor the civic center in the tower.

Naturally the tower proposal complicated the "701" planning project.

In the first place, the Sahadi proposition was not presented until after much of the preliminary planning work had already been done for the downtown core area.

And, obviously, if the civic center was to be located in the tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues, it would have a real impact on the downtown core.

Those of us who favored the tower concept felt that the tower plan with the adjacent cultural-commercial center that was planned adjacent to it would be beneficial to the entire downtown area from Bascom to Winchester.

On the other hand, strong opposition flared from some property owners in the downtown area who felt that the civic center in the so-called downtown area was a necessary "tool" for the improvement of the area.

The dramatic proposal, in our opinion, would change the image of Campbell overnight and probably would have given our city an outstanding and modern city at a bargain price.

However, that apparently is not to be, because the offer has been officially withdrawn.

Therefore, the entire complexion of the hearing on "Specific Area II" (the downtown area) has been changed.

When tonight's hearing was originally scheduled, the tower was a living thing that fired the imagination and undoubtedly would have been the "star" of the public hearing.

But the hearing tonight without the tower seems to us to be even more important than before.

The tower offered a brand new approach to the entire civic center picture, without it, we must make with what we have and make the best of it.

We mean that a street pattern must be developed, either by the loop system or in some other manner, that will serve the area adequately.

It must be decided how the loop system, or whatever, will affect the civic center, that is apparently to remain in the Central Ave. - Campbell Ave. area.

Care must also be taken as to the types of zoning that will be in effect in all parts of Specific Area II, which includes the major part of the community that existed at the time of incorporation in 1952.

For lack of better terminology, it could be called our "old town".

We believe that the hearing tonight should not only be attended by the property owners in the downtown core but interested citizens from all parts of the town should also be in attendance.

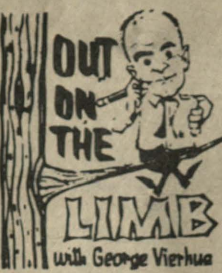

It has been suggested on many occasions that the city should pick up the tab for much of the development that will be necessary, if the so-called downtown core is to be improved in any noticeable extent.

We suggest that, if citizens outside the so-called downtown core are going to be asked to help defray the cost of improving this deteriorated area, then we should know how we "on the outside" are going to benefit.

That is why the public hearing tonight on Specific Area II is so important.

thing that the DEMS will not be able to match. At least in our opinion.

During the height of the REP confab in Miami Beach, in a sort of get-away-from-it-all mood we flipped the TV switch to a station that was not televising the convention.

There was a movie on, so we figured we would get a brief respite from the activities of the politicians.

You guessed it. It was an old, old movie and you know darn well who had one of the leading roles.

Ronald Reagan.

The governor of California, at that very moment was actively seeking the GOP presidential nod at the convention.

Let's see if the DEMOCRATS can beat that.

RECENTLY NEAL ROYER, superintendent of the elementary school district, put on his other hat and went on duty as a full colonel in the U.S. Army reserve.

His tour as a full-blown Army "eagle" was a session in a high Army brass school in Fort Lee, Virginia.

Col. Royer flew out of San Francisco to his assignment in Virginia.

Imagine his surprise when in getting on the plane he found that Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cassidy were also passengers and heading for the east coast on a vacation.

They managed to get their seats switched so the three Campbell residents sat together across the continent.

Incidentally both Neal and Cliff are long-time Campbell Rotary members so they composed a wire to send Wally Hall, club president, and the members. They, of course, were fined for this indiscretion upon their return home.

The coincidence occurred just before the annual Kiwanis-Rotary softball battle and, of course, the wire suggested that the Rotary was in a weakened position because both Royer and Cassidy would be absent from the lineup.

You may recall that the Rotary Club this year won this annual classic for the first time.

Incidentally Cliff and Evelyn while on their east coast tour stopped in at Fort Lee where they were guests of Col. Royer for dinner.

By that time, they had heard the news that Rotary had been the victor.

We understand they both paid their fines at the club with hardly a murmur.

QUITE OFTEN CHURCH or club bulletins offer clever little tidbits that we are happy to pick up and drop in this column for the edification of our readers.

Take as an example the following item that appeared recently in St. Lucy's bulletin: "REMINDER FROM ST. CHRISTOPHER: "Songs for the Road...To Heaven—

At 45 miles per hour, sing—"Highways are Happy Ways"

At 55 miles, sing—"I'm But A Stranger Here, Heaven is My Home."

At 65 miles, sing—"When the Roll is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There."

At 75 miles, sing—"Nearer, My God to Thee!"

At 85 miles, sing - "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

WE THOUGHT THAT the item was especially apropos to run at this time.

The three-day Labor Day weekend makes its annual appearance this weekend.

CLEAN VS DIRT—These eight small fry, aided by Miss Janie Wong, participated in a skit to dramatize Campbell businesses clean-up needs at a recent Kiwanis Club meeting.

The skit must have worked—the Kiwanis contributed $100 to Campbell beautification

Two apply for parks board

Two applications for the vacancies existing on the Campbell Parks and Recreation have been received, according to Don Hebard, Parks and Recreation Commission chairman. Other applications for the posts will be received up to Sept. 11 at which time the commission will review the applications.

The commission will recommend two of the applicants to the Campbell City Council, who will make the final appointments. Members of the Parks and Recreation must reside within the city limits of Campbell.

Applicants may call the Campbell City Hall, 378-8141 for further information.

The Winchester Hardware, 2127 Winchester Blvd., lost $252.29 to two men who entered the establishment Aug. 22, and after one engaged the owner, Charles De La Roche in conversation over a 10 cent purchase of sandpaper, the other managed to "tap the till".

The Kopper Kettle, 2082 Winchester Blvd. fared a little better, in that the armed juvenile suspect who pulled a nylon stocking over his face as a disguise, was apprehended immediately after leaving the establishment with $49 which he had taken from Jeneva Painter, waitress. The suspect, who showed familiarity with the business by locking the door and putting up the closed sign, simulated a weapon in his jacket pocket while demanding the money.

A passer-by, Anthony Smith, 508 Coyote Road, saw the suspect enter the Kopper Kettle and realizing that something was not right, waited for the robber to come out of the business. After he removed his mask Smith managed to apprehend him after chasing him into the Chevron station at Winchester and Campbell Ave., and he was then booked by police. He is now released on bail.

Private homes entered and burglarized included the Mike Silva home, 225 Calado, $560 in money, jewelry and Blue Chip stamps missing, Ottman Wong, 1680 Hyde Dr., $234 worth of power tools removed and Rufus James Leach, 200 Dillon Ave., reported $250 stolen from the glove compartment of his 1961 Ford, as well as the pink slip, deed to the house and other valuable papers.

Planners meet

Plans for five different buildings, including Humble Oil service station on the south end of the Campbell Plaza Center on Winchester, will be up for approval at the Planning Commission meeting next Monday August 26.

Among the use permit applications is one from United Progresso Arriba to allow the use of a duplex at 41 W. Rincon Ave. as a senior citizens center.

The duplex is located next to St. Lawrence Episcopal Church. City department heads have indicated that it does not meet standards for meetings.

An interesting sidelight also for the commission's meeting Monday is the rezoning action on the agenda for property being annexed to the city known as Cherry Woods 1968-5.

The annexation included two residential properties, one at 1791 Grace Ave. and the other at 1780 Phantom.

Jack Healey, former planning commission chairman, and who was recently appointed to his second four year term on the commission, resides at the Grace Ave. address.

Lt. Corral claims bride

LT. AND MRS. ALLAN B. CORRAL

Second Lt. and Mrs. Allan B. Corral, the former Sharon Steinhauer, were greeted with a cross saber barrier formed by fellow officers as they left the Brigade Avenue West Chapel, Ft. Hood, Texas, following their July 27 wedding.

The ceremony was read by Chaplain Capt. Goodner. Sharon chose a candlelight, floor length gown with a small train for her wedding dress. A shoulder length veil was held in place with a rosette and a bouquet of yellow baby roses completed her ensemble.

Attendants included her sister, Patty and a friend, who were both gowned in blue and carried bouquets of yellow roses. The new Mrs. Corral is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steinhauer of Birmingham, Alabama, who made the trip to Texas so that Steinhauer could give his daughter in marriage. Mrs. Steinhauer wore a yellow beige dress with beige accessories and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Sharon has been attending the Jacksonville State University for two years prior to her marriage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corral, 137 Cherry Lane. Allan has attended schools in the Campbell area all his life, starting with the Cherry Lane school and on through San Jose State and West Valley College. While attending college he was also employed at IBM and is planning an electronic engineers career.

He entered Officers Candidate School at Ft. Gordon, Georgia, and was graduated in January, 1968 from their Signal School as a Second Lieutenant.

His brother, Michael, is presently serving in the Navy and was unable to attend the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Corral drove to Texas for the wedding, accompanied by Allan's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Corral of San Leandro. Mrs. Corral chose a royal blue ensemble with matching shoes, and white accessories which were complimented with an orchid corsage.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the Cowhouse Hotel in Killen, Texas, following the ceremony. Lt. and Mrs. Corral are making their home in Killen, Texas following their wedding trip to the Hemisfair, San Antonio, Texas.

Dr. Morgan enjoys 50th class reunion

Dr. Wyland Morgan recently returned from Carbondale, Pa. where he attended the 50th class reunion of his high school graduating class. Dr. Morgan reported that out of the class of 92, 51 former students were notified and 29 showed up.

One of the features of the reunion was the publication of the original 1918 graduation class and a picture of those attending the reunion. Dr. Morgan visited at the home of his brother Glen, a retired locomotive engineer, and enjoyed visiting with old friends and family. On the flight to Pa. an emergency landing was made at Milwaukee, and Dr. Morgan was quite intrigued to discover that apparently a private cemetery was maintained in the middle of the airport flight patterns.

Dr. and Mrs. Morgan have just returned from a two weeks motor trip to Vancouver, B.C. with a stopover at the Chateau Lake Louise. Mrs. Morgan remarked that the garden is a sight worth making the trip for, and the display of Iceland poppies is especially spectacular.

Oregon rites unite Mr. and Mrs. Brandon

The Unitarian Church, Eugene, Oregon, was the setting recently for the marriage of Ida Catherine Pacheco and Paul Louis Brandon.

Miss Pacheco chose a long white crepe gown fashioned with venese lace on the bodice and elbow length sleeves, completed with a floor-length train edged in the same lace. A long veil and shoulder length face veil completed her ensemble and she carried one red rose pillowed on fern as she went to meet her bridegroom.

Miss Pacheco was given in marriage by her father, George J. Pacheco. Mrs. Pacheco wore a light blue linen coat dress with dark blue accessories complimented by a white carnation corsage.

Ida is presently employed as an instructor at the University of Oregon. She holds a BA in Sociology from San Jose State. Her parents reside in Turlock, California. Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Lorraine Gonsalves who carried one green chrysanthemum to set off her floor length green chiffon gown.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Brandon of 1144 Normandy Dr., Campbell. He is employed by Ryther Children Center, Seattle, Washington.

He holds a B.S. in Physics from San Jose State and while in college served as president of the American Institute of Physics, Student section, S.J.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandon motored to Eugene for the wedding. Mrs. Brandon was lovely in a pink linen dress coat with matching pink shoes, white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Serving as best man was William Helmbold with Thomas Hardy and Don Baltz ushering the guests to their seats.

Playing the flute for her brother's wedding was Miss Karen L. Brandon. Don Loftus was the pianist with Mrs. Cheryl Reynolds, vocalist.

Following the ceremony a reception for 80 was held at the church which was decorated with flowers for the occasion.

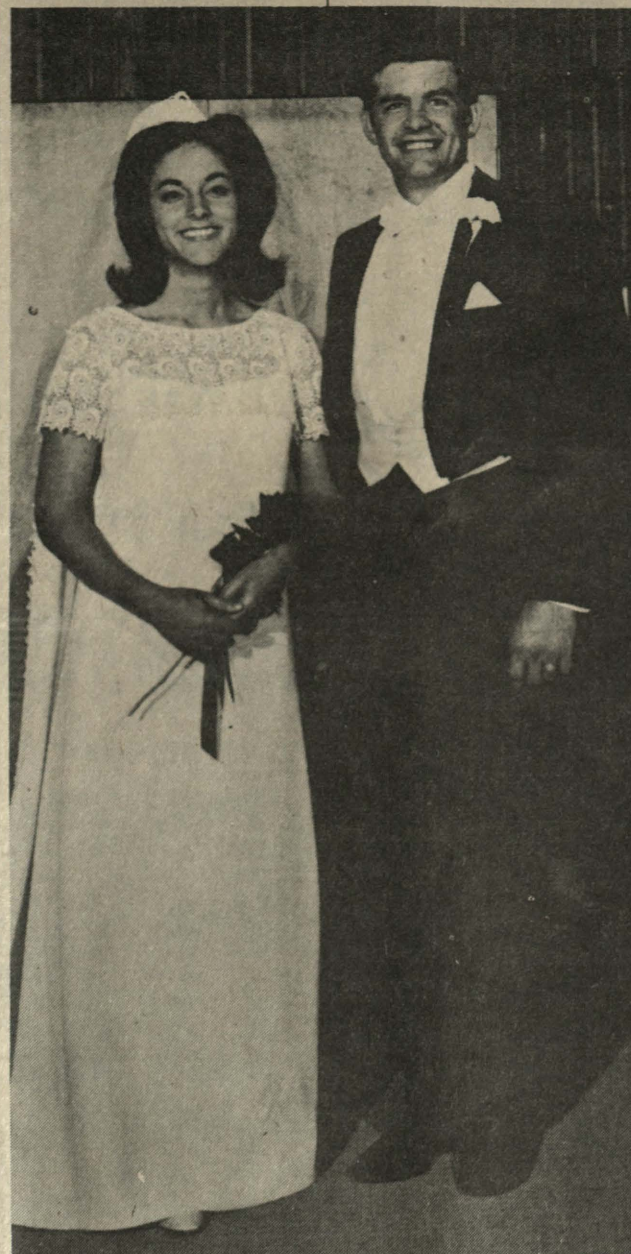

The new Mr. and Mrs. Brandon left for a two weeks honeymoon in Canada and are now making their home in Seattle, Washington.

Malone home scene of recent champagne BBQ

Members of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary recently enjoyed a champagne evening and barbecue at the Hedegard Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. James Malone.

The lovely outdoor patio was attractively decorated with lanterns, flowers and candles. Casual dress was the order for the evening and a delicious steak dinner was barbecued by Malone.

Attending the annual summer event were Messers and Mesdames M. E. Cain, Harry Gerin, James Gillespie, Sidney Hammer, Tom Llorens, Edward Loeswick, Carl Mattison, Erick Schramm, William Smeed, Thomas Smith, R.D. Franks and C.C. Norment.

Final services held for plane crash victim

CHARLES R. SCHAPER

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Charles Robert Schaper, 36, of 1460 White Oaks Avenue, who was killed Sunday evening when the light plane he was piloting crashed in the Chemeketa Park, Los Gatos hills area.

Schaper and Mitchell V. Schuermann, 7938 Madrone Drive, Los Gatos, who was with Schaper in the plane, were both killed in the plane crash. The two men were attempting to take low-level aerial photos of a wedding reception which they had attended earlier in the afternoon. According to witnesses the Piper Cub lost power and dived into the residence of Mrs. Judith Anne Decker, 17780 Arapahoe Trail, trapping the two men in the crushed nose section of the small plane.

Highway patrol plans maximum holiday control

Maximum patrol of all heavily traveled routes in the state is planned for the Labor Day holiday weekend, California Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan announced.

For the past two years the fatality rate on the Labor Day weekend has been high. Traffic accidents took the lives of 59 persons in that period in 1966, the highest for any Labor Day holiday, and 57 in 1967.

Last year the most dangerous part of the weekend was the first 36 hours, starting at 6 p.m. Friday, when fatalities occurred at the rate of .92 per hour. For the second half of the weekend, the death rate on the streets and highways dropped to .57 per hour.

Sullivan advised that Californians planning to be on the road on the holiday check their routes and know their turn-offs before they leave home, observe the rules of the road, and avoid such hazardous violations as unsafe lane changes, following too closely, and excessive speed.

In recent Congressional history no issue has excited more controversy or prompted more mail than the bill passed by the House to control the use of firearms. Considering the honestly held views on both sides, the tremendous interest stirred by newspapers, radio and television and the great problems connected with such legislation which came to light during more than a week of debate, it was surprising that the House passed any bill at all, let alone one which promises to be helpful.

It is not my purpose in this column to argue for or against the House-passed bill. Rather, it is to warn that no gun control bill can suddenly prevent violent criminal acts. It may assist in the fight against crime, but it will not stop it.

The 6,500 murders, 43,000 aggravated assaults and 60,000 robberies committed each year usually involve hand guns which are strictly regulated in most states. California has one of the strongest hand gun laws in the Nation, which is stricter than the federal law proposed by the President. Nevertheless, Sirhan Sirhan secured a hand gun and used it to assassinate Senator Robert Kennedy. In so doing, he broke Section 12021 of the State Code which prohibits aliens from owning or possessing any concealable firearm.

In addition, Sirhan violated Section 12022 which makes it a crime to commit a felony while armed with a firearm which can be concealed. He also violated Section 12025 which makes it a misdemeanor to carry a concealed weapon without a license, Section 12031 making it a misdemeanor to carry a loaded firearm in a public place, and Section 12072 prohibiting the transfer of any firearm that might be concealed to any alien.

California licensing provisions for concealed weapons are strict. A permit can only be obtained after an affirmative determination that the applicant is of good moral character and after the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation has verified that there is no derogatory information on file regarding the applicant.

Thus, a strict law did not prevent Sirhan Sirhan from committing his crime.

The former Police Chief of Washington, D.C., has said,

"A criminal who wants to use a gun will get a gun, law or no law." The head of the Pennsylvania State Police has said, "The criminal will get hold of a gun regardless of any laws passed." Local judges and police concur.

In New York City, where the Sullivan Law requires a permit for a hand gun in your own home, not one of the homicides in 1966 was committed with a licensed firearm.

I repeat that this is not offered as an argument against gun control legislation, which I supported, but it is a warning not to expect crime to decline when gun controls are passed. Almost 97% of our serious crimes are committed without the use of firearms. Across the Nation, hundreds

New Prospect High PTA plans meet

The new Prospect High School P.T.A. will hold its first organizational meeting Tuesday, Sept. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Prospect High School cafeteria, 18900 Prospect Ave.

This newest school in the Campbell Union High School

District will open its doors for the first time at the start of the school year, Sept. 10, but the P.T.A. is holding their first meeting next Tuesday.

At the first meeting election and installation of officers will take place, by-laws will be presented and adopted and other organizational business will be taken care of.

Serving on the first publicity committee are Bill Bunker, George Hubbard, Jim Faulkner, Mae Condie and Ed Colby. Parents of students who will be attending the first P.T.A. meeting are asked to call the school office, 252-3350 to notify the committee of their intentions to attend.

The new school will serve high school students in an area bounded roughly by Williams and Marilla, on the north; San Tomas Aquino and Bucknall, on the southeast, Quito and Paseo Lado on the south and Johnson Ave. and Brookhaven on the west.

Judge Rhodes attends trial judge 'college'

Superior Court Judge Richard W. (Dusty) Rhodes was selected to attend the 1968 session of the California College of Trial Judges held at the Earl Warren Legal Center at Berkeley Aug. 18-30.

The student judges will attend classes given by senior judges on criminal proceedings, trials, new trends in procedure, and ideas and ethics for judges.

Judges will attend sessions of the Adult Authority at San Quentin prison Wednesday and Thursday (Aug. 28, 29).

Founding dean of the College is Judge Donald R. Fretz of the Superior Court in Merced County, who has been active with a similar nationwide training program.

The College, financed largely by the Ford Foundation, was developed by the Conference of California Judges and the Conference of California Judges Foundation.

Judge Fretz pointed out that the sessions of both years have now involved a total of some 200 of the 700 judges of California's courts of record, either as students or faculty. Enrollment is limited, with preference for the most recent appointees, and there is a balance between superior and municipal courts from all areas of the state.

Judge Rhodes was graduated from Stanford Law School in 1952 and was in private practice until 1959. In 1958 he was elected judge of the justice court and in 1959 elected the first judge of the Los Gatos - Campbell - Saratoga Municipal Court.

He was appointed to the Superior Court in December 1967.

He and his wife, Dean, also an attorney, reside at 14784 Vickery Ave. Saratoga.

Evening Folk Mass packs St. Lucy's

The Folk Mass, being observed every Sunday evening at 7 p.m. at St. Lucy's Catholic church, Winchester Blvd. is a "standing room only" event in spite of the fact that the new St. Lucy's sanctuary seats 1,200 people.

The mass, which is being so well-received, is appealing to old and young alike. It presents the mass in a folk idiom, with a ballad style and the music is played by a group of young guitarists, with a bossa nova beat.

The Folk Mass also presents a young people's choir of approximately 20 young people of high school and college age under the direction of Paul Connelly. The evening mass started in May.

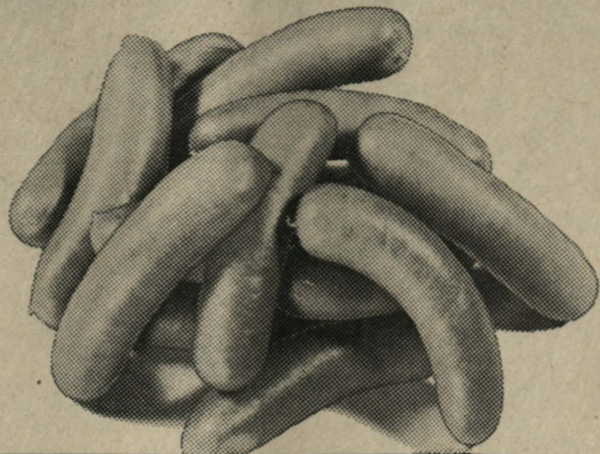

Playing in the guitar group are Dennis Schmides, Kim Boe, Mark Harville, Dave Singletary, Shirley Hennessey and June Sota. Mark and Dave also "double" on the banjo.

Nine year old takes first place in 4-H dress review

The girls who are enrolled in Campbell 4-H Club sewing classes, modeled the clothes they made in two fashion shows recently.

The first fashion show "Bouncing with Spring" was held at the monthly community club meeting.

The second fashion show was the West Area Dress Review, which was held at Lynbrook High School. During the day the girls modeled their clothes for the judges, who then rated them with certificates. These certificates were blue, red or white, depending on the quality of the work done. That evening the girls modeled their creations before family and friends at the Sugar 'n Spice fashion show.

Girls attending were: Julie Wilcox, Linda Vigliecca, Nancy Chivers, Bonnie Watts, Stacey Smith, Kathleen Clancy, Dannette Diaz, Roxanne Smith, Becky Hopkins, Diane Kiser, Suann Mariani, Nora Smith, Judy Bain, Cecilia Brown and Marie Brown.

Linda, Bonnie, Stacey, Judy and Kathleen were awarded blue certificates and went on to the County Dress Review where Linda was a gold medal winner. Linda, 9 years old, is in her first year of 4-H work.

The club sold fire works during the 4th of July, with the aid of Campbell Kiwanis Club.

At the annual 4-H picnic there was good food, swimming and lots of fun.

The Campbell 4-H Club extends an invitation to all Campbell residents to visit Fiesta Hall, at the Santa Clara County Fair, Aug. 18-25 and see the many projects they have been working on all year.

Federal funds help program at WV College

West Valley College's Vocational Education program received a boost from the Federal Government recently, with the allocation of $85,518 in Federal funds for eight college programs.

The funds were granted under the Vocational Education Act of 1963, for the school year 1968-69. Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president told the Board of Trustees at its recent meeting.

The college had requested a total of $99,020, but the amount received by the college was described as "highly satisfactory" by Dr. Hall.

Five of the programs received full allocations requested. Those were:

Data Processing, $18,231; Electronic Technician, $16,050; Law Enforcement, $10,407; Medical Assisting, $4,607, and Dean of Vocational Education, $12,800.

The Food Services Program request was pared from $15,445 to $7,920. The Licensed Vocational Nursing Program asked for $13,505 and received $11,885, while the Work Experience Program was cut from $7,975 to $3,618.

Dr. Hall said the overall reduction was some 13.5 per cent of the original request, and he was informed by the State Department of Education that reductions had been based solely on the basis of lack of funds, not on the merit status of the proposals.

Dr. Hall said that the amounts granted to the college have to be matched by similar, or in some cases, greater amounts from the college funds in order to undertake the entire program.

Kennedy moves from his 1967 spot as business division chairman and takes the place occupied last year by Fred Grinter, of Breuner's Home Furnishers.

As "C & I" chairman, Kennedy is responsible for the solicitation of more than 50 companies in the Campbell area employing more than 10 persons.

The Campbell "C & I" division, one of 10 like divisions in the 10 community Central Area Chapter, will be working toward a Chapter division goal of $1,138,153—more than 80 percent of the Central Area target figure.

Kennedy and other local volunteers will be striving to meet a community goal of $50,198, which is more than $4,000 above last year's goal.

All of the UF community goals throughout the county have increased this year due to the need for increased health and welfare services, and the addition of six new agencies to United Fund.

Kennedy is a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Campbell Rotary. He resides in Los Gatos with his wife, Vivian, and their two children.

Child Development Center to highlight Saratoga campus

When the Engineering-Technology Building on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College opens for business for the fall term, one of its highlights will be the Child Development Center, where the new Nursery School Assisting program will be carried on.

The Child Development Center is part of the Family Life curricula to be offered on the Saratoga campus, according to Mrs. Gwenna Mortensen, counselor and director of the college's Home Economics program.

Students have been working and training in the past in child care establishments and nursery schools throughout the valley to supplement classroom training. The entire program will now be concentrated on the Saratoga campus, Mrs. Mortensen said.

It will be used as a laboratory for students working for a two-year Associate in Arts degree in Nursery School Assisting, as a lower division program toward the four-year bachelor's degree in Home Economics at the State Colleges, and by students seeking education to enable them to become directors and administrators of nursery schools, day care centers, and related establishments.

Although it is aimed primarily at being a learning experience for students, the children in the center will also greatly benefit, Mrs. Mortensen said.

"They will be given the advantage of learning program combined with art, music and crafts, presented in a relaxed, semi-structured atmosphere," she said.

"In this setting the children will be free to develop and build positive self-concepts while at the same time learning the 'give and take' of life within their peer group," she said.

In order for a child to be accepted at the center, one of the child's parents must be enrolled in at least one class at West Valley College, Mrs. Mortensen said.

The first class which will be mandatory for parents will be an introductory child psychology course, which will be offered in both the regular day and extended day (evening) programs.

Children in the center will be between the ages of three and five and will be obtained through specified procedure from applications in the communities comprising the West Valley College district.

A committee will select children on the basis of a controlled number of three year old girls and boys and a mixed grouping from all races, religions and socio-economic origins.

Mrs. Mortensen said the program was an extension of the program undertaken previously from the Campbell campus throughout various nursery schools in the valley and she paid particular tribute to Mrs. Evelyn Weisberg's Nursery school in San Jose as being "most helpful."

Parents interested in enrolling themselves and the children in the nursery program should write to Mrs. Mortensen at West Valley College, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, 95008.

Kathleen Harville, 20 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Harville, 149 W. Budd Avenue, is one of 11 students from San Jose State college who have been accepted by the California State Colleges International Program to spend a year in European universities. Kathleen, or Kathy, as she is better known to her friends, will spend her junior year at the University of Aix-Marseille in Southern France.

The International program, which is now in its third year, accepts students to attend 10 European universities and 30 students are chosen from each participating state college.

Besides two semesters of full-time studies, the state college program calls for three weeks of intensive language study before classes, taught entirely in French, at San Francisco State College. More than two months of vacation time for touring Europe is part

County budget cuts result in 8-cent tax rate decrease

Budget cuts of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors have resulted in an 8-cent county property tax rate decrease, it has been announced.

Final calculations of the Finance Department show a tax rate of $2.052 per $100 of assessed valuation will support the county's $149,137, 107 budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year. Last year's rate was $2.133.

The separate County Library budget was cut two-tenths of a cent to a new rate of 20.8 cents.

It means that Santa Clara County, despite its population ranking as fifth largest among California's 58 counties, ranks 45th or lower in the property tax rate it levies to support county government.

During budget deliberations in July, the Board of Supervisors slashed $2½ million in property tax fund requirement monies from the proposals of the County Executive but still added a number of new services and projects.

The tax rate cut was accomplished despite the County's assumption of San Jose public health services which added a tax rate of more than six cents to the budget demands.

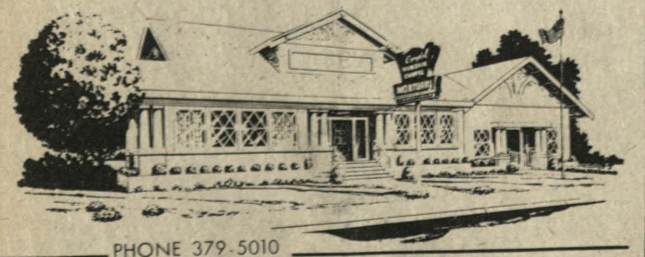

Programs authorized even with the tax rate cut included significant salary increases for County employees; a parks development program allocating $485,000 for the present fiscal year; land acquisition for a South County Airport in the San Martin area; and addition of a special unit for treatment of burns and a toxicology laboratory at the Valley Medical Center.
